

Why are objectives a critical component?

Objectives are an effective instructional practice and are a critical component in the success of our students. When students know what is expected of them and scaffolding is in place, students will be able to master content standards.

- Students know what is expected of them.
- Beginning and Intermediate English language learners are able to focus their attention on what is significant.
- When teachers focus on meeting objectives aligned to content standards, students are prepared for the next grade level.
