

Reflection

We will begin our exploration by reflecting on how objectives benefit our students. Take a minute to identify these benefits and consider how your students' learning will increase with objectives in place.