

Lesson Objectives

We will begin this course by reviewing proficiency level descriptors as they relate to student language proficiency levels. We will also explore how linguistic accommodations support student needs. Take a minute to review content and language objectives for this lesson.

This lesson will highlight the importance of adapting text for student support, as well as consider how accommodations should be linked to student proficiency levels.